

NAFSMA 2020 Excellence in Communications and Green Infrastructure Awards Announced

The National Association of Flood and Stormwater Management Agencies (NAFSMA) on December 14, 2020, announced the winners of its Excellence in Communications Awards and Stormwater Management Green Infrastructure Awards Program. The 2020 Excellence in Communications contest recognized the best outreach efforts in two Communication categories, Public Awareness of Flooding and Improving Water Quality.

NAFSMA is an organization of public agencies whose function is the protection of lives, property and economic activity from the adverse impacts of storm and flood waters. The mission of the association is to advocate public policy, encourage technologies and conduct education programs which facilitate and enhance the achievement of the public service function of its members.

The Excellence in Communications awards program was designed to not only highlight award winning communication and outreach programs, but to also provide examples of successful initiatives addressing flood awareness and water quality throughout the nation that can serve as examples to other water resource agencies and local and regional governments.

“The contest brought in entries from across the country that included comprehensive communications campaigns as well as individual works, like brochures, posters, public service announcements and government television programs,” said Susan Gilson, NAFSMA executive director. “The caliber of work with Green Infrastructure and communication outreach were outstanding and provide great examples of programs that other agencies can modify for their own unique environments

A video showcasing all the contest entries released on December 14, 2020, is available on the NAFSMA website a www.nafsma.org. NAFSMA thanks the participants in this year’s awards program, as well as the judges who reviewed this year’s entries and Awards Program Managers Sofia Chatos and Dusty Williams.
