

2020 Flood Risk and Water Quality Excellence in Communications and Stormwater Management Green Infrastructure Awards Applications Due on Monday, June 15, 2020

The National Association of Flood and Stormwater Management Agencies (NAFSMA) officially opened both its 2020 Excellence in Communications and Green Infrastructure Awards Programs on April 1, 2020.

Entry submissions for both of the 2020 awards programs should cover projects and programs implemented before June 1, 2020. To be eligible for consideration, applications need to be submitted electronically via the NAFSMA website by 11:59 p.m. EDT on Monday, June 15, 2020.

Award winners will be announced at NAFSMA's 2020 Flood and Stormwater Management Conference on August 10–13, 2020 in Park City, Utah. Award winning entries will be highlighted on a special video and this year's awards will be extremely special with winners expected to be eager to display these unique recognitions in their agencies or firms.

NAFSMA's Green Infrastructure Awards Program was designed to recognize and spotlight innovative stormwater management projects throughout the country that advance Green Infrastructure and Low Impact Development techniques. This initiative was undertaken as one of the key projects identified in NAFSMA's Memorandum of Understanding with U.S. EPA on Green Infrastructure.

Per the Green Infrastructure application, the project description needs to include a site plan or diagram, and descriptions of the project's environmental impact, economic impact, outreach efforts, results, maintenance (monitoring, upkeep, costs and reporting) and conclusion.

The Excellence in Communications awards program highlights award winning communication and outreach programs and provides examples of successful initiatives about flood awareness, pollution prevention and environmental protection that are taking place across the United States.

For questions on the Excellence in Communications Awards Program, please contact Sofia Chatos at schatos@nafsm.org or 301-404-1332.

NAFSMA's awards programs, which are carried out under a mentoring agreement with FEMA, are open to all public agencies as well as private firms working with a public agency on a green infrastructure project or on communications efforts for flood risk communication as well as water quality communications initiatives. NAFSMA members and non-members are invited to apply. Feel free to also contact the NAFSMA National Office at sgilson@nafsm.org or 202-289-8625 for any additional information.

Good luck to all and get those applications ready and submitted!
